Submission:

- You can named your files as wish.
- Submit to a new repository named as "jquery_assignment".
- There can be any number of files.

Instructions:

Based on the HTML given, improving it to meet the following requirements

- If any of the username, email, password or confirmed password is empty, then
  - Change the border color to red
  - Display a small text under the field as "this filed must not be empty"
- At least one of the Interesting Topics choices must be checked, otherwise display a small red text besides the label as "At least one topic must be selected"
- If the Gender drop down selection must not be "—" (the first option), display a red small text beside the label as "please choose your gender"
- When clicking on Submit button, check the confirmed password. If confirmed password value does not match the password value, then
  - Change the confirmed password border color to red
  - Display a small text under confirmed password field as "confirmed password mismatched the password"
- Note that you can modify the HTML freely as well as create any number of corresponding files.
- Explicitly importing CSS and JavaScript is preferred, but implementing it internally has no penalty.
